Dr Dilip Bora then took the opportunity to emphasize the need for such sessions which not only brings credit to the institution but also reinvigorates researchers with further discussions. Dr Sagar Baruah Retired Principal of Khagarijan College and Scholar gave an enriching lecture on the need to record history which gives the glimpse of the society and the context. Prof Amarendra Kumar Thakur, NEHU, graced the session as the resource Person.

He gave an enthralling talk on the assessment in historical context. According to him Contextualizing History is a matter of great significance because an event cannot be read in isolation. Rather it is a culmination of the time and period axis. He further stressed on the need to contextualize the local history to the largely accepted canon so that both can be juxtaposed and further readings can be made. This was followed by an interactive discussion between the academics which was then concluded with a Vote of Thanks by MrRayhanul Ahmed, Dept of History.

Contextualizing Buranji, Language and Identity Issues of Assam

Contextualizing Buranji Language and Identity Issues of Assam:

The present book "Contextualizing Buranji, Language & Identity Issues of Assam" is an outcome of S. Boruah Endowment Lecture, organized by the Department of History, Khagarijan College, Nagaon. The book contains two lectures viz., Understanding Language and Identity: A Case Study of Assam delivered by Prof. Ichhimuddin Sarkar, Prof. University of North Bengal, in the year 2016. In the lecture, Prof. Sarkar adopts an analytical approach to explain the grounded question of Assamese language and identity question of the ethnic minorities of Assam. Prof. I. Sarkar's entire lecture is divided into various sections focusing various aspects of language and social issues of Assam.

The Second Lecture "Buranji Between Literature and History: A Critical Study of the Configuration" is a very interesting focus on the importance of vernacular literature in the reconstruction of history of North East India. The Lecture was delivered by Prof. Amrendra Kumar Thakur, Professor & Former Head, Department of History, North Eastern Hill University, Shillong, on November 2018. In his Lecture, Prof. Thakur desire to explain the influence of different disciplines in the methods and approaches of the historical writings. His paper mainly focus on the historical value of the text Tungkhungia Buranji of late Ahom period, which is according to Prof. Thakur, closer to 'reality' that expose the colonial bias encountered in the official records of the British period.

Message from the Principal

It is my immense pleasure to applaud the initiative of the Department of History, Khagarijan College, that they have done a praiseworthy work by publishing a very good book namely Contextualising Buranji Language and Identity Issues of Assam which is an outcome of S. Boruah Endowment Lecture Series organised on 2016 & 2018 respectively on the two very important social issues. In this auspicious occasion, I would like to offer my sincere thanks and gratitude to Prof. Ichhimuddin Sarkar, Professor in History, University of North Bengal and Prof. Amrendra Kumar Thakur, Former Head & Professor in History, North Eastern Hills University, Shillong, due to whose invaluable contribution we are able to publish the book. I would also like to acknowledge the initiative of Dr. Sagar Boruah, Rtd. Principal, Khagarijan College who has undertaken such a good initiative to organise endowment lecture in the college that definitely will contribute in the field of historical research.
